

Client Success Services | Performance Data Optimization

Analytic driven insight accelerates time-to-business results.

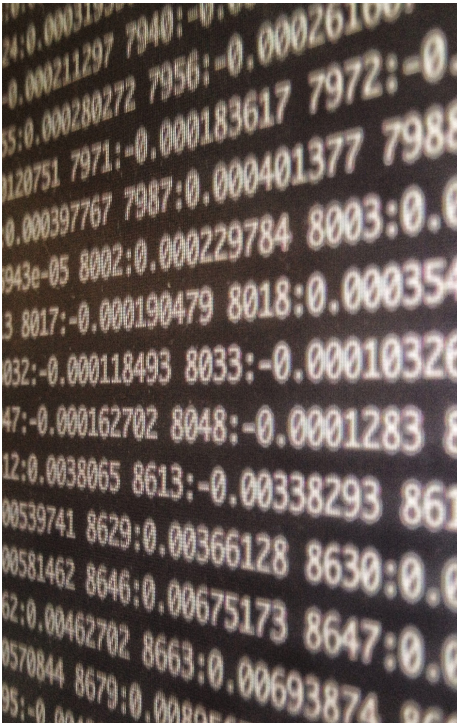

Optimize the utilization of data analytics with unparalleled industry expertise.

Tailored to your unique needs, Pitney Bowes Client Success Services helps you optimize your transactional mail assets and realize tangible results. Our consultancy, insight and implementation services are designed to positively affect your bottom line.

With Client Success Performance Data Optimization from Pitney Bowes, you can utilize data and industry insights to make more intelligent business decisions benefiting your bottom line.

For more information, visit us online: pbi.bz/ClientSuccess

Our strength is in our people.

Our team of highly skilled, experienced production mail professionals successfully advise clients on how to optimize results based on their unique needs. We do this by helping clients understand the potential productivity improvements that can be gained by gathering and evaluating clients' relevant performance data.

Data is as unique as you are.

The insight gained through using production data identifies variances by operator, by platform, by change-over time and by application. Once the insight is properly gleaned, the ideal improvement needs can be defined and initiatives are deployed to improve current statistics.

Ensure that your software investment is well spent.

Our Client Success subject matter experts work directly with you to ensure optimization of installed and configured data analytics software (DirectView™)*. Once software utilization is optimized, the Client Success team specialist works with you to maximize your potential to improve productivity.

Ensure your operational performance is optimized.

Our consultants can provide insight on your operational performance and potential capabilities by providing reporting and comparative analysis with big data from the Industrial Internet. (Clarity™)*.

Pair simplicity with convenience.

Data process analysis and insights are provided by Client Success specialists using standard, easy-to-understand reports. These reports are presented to clients remotely or face-to-face, on a one time or a periodic basis, depending on your business needs.

Our solutions help you achieve success.

Data optimization is a service for clients who have either/or both:

- DirectView: Monitors production operations performance in real time. This on-premises software suite provides clients with time critical information for print and mail operations to monitor workcell productivity, maintain optimal performance and attain operational goals.
- Clarity: A complete suite that helps print and mail operations maximize output and minimize downtime by using machine sensor data tied to the Industrial Internet. With it, you can predict and resolve equipment and operator issues, thus increasing productivity and lowering operational costs.

We're here to help.

To find out how Client Success Services Performance Data Optimization can help your organization, visit us online at: pbi.bz/ClientSuccess

United States
37 Executive Drive
Danbury, CT 06810