

Smarter package pickup—now available anytime

Cut costs and delight students with Pitney Bowes On the go™ Package Pickup

Campuses receive more shipments than ever before. The recent surge in ecommerce, coupled with a steady stream of care packages and mail, adds costs and delays at nearly every campus.

That's why colleges and universities are now turning to Pitney Bowes On the go™ Package Pickup. This advanced, self-service package delivery system relies on secure technologies to increase convenience, accountability and cost-efficiency at every step.

SIMPLIFY PACKAGE HANDLING

Simply scan an item and secure it in a single-use locker. A notification is automatically sent to the recipient.

ELIMINATE LONG LINES AND DELAYS

Students and faculty can pick-up mail and packages at their convenience—whether the campus mail centre is open or not.

SAVE TIME AND MONEY EVERY DAY

Extend service hours without adding staff, and eliminate the hassles of package management, tracking and delivery.

AVOID LOST, STOLEN OR MISPLACED PACKAGES

Once an item is secured in a locker, it can only be retrieved by its intended recipient.

The modular, customisable, totally secure, indoor/outdoor locker system

Increase productivity and satisfaction day after day.

- Instant notifications
- Open anytime
- No queues or delays
- No lost or misplaced packages
- Quick package pickup

Easy to install. Even easier to manage. This one-stop, automated package pick-up system can be configured for any campus environment.

Get the one electronic locker system that streamlines every step of package handling

One-touch package processing

When a parcel comes in, an authorised employee simply identifies the recipient and places the item in the appropriately-sized locker. By assigning barcodes, you can capture this information using a hand-held scanner, and integrate data with your existing delivery tracking system.

Automated, personalised communications

Students, faculty and staff are notified instantly by text or email, with detailed instructions on how to retrieve their package.

Accountable, anytime package pickup

When recipients arrive at the locker, verifying their pick-up is easy. They can simply swipe their student/faculty ID cards, or enter the unique PIN or barcode that's generated for every package or letter.

Greater satisfaction and no increase to staff

Once confirmed, the locker opens and the recipient can retrieve their item—at the time most convenient to them. Optional self-closing doors provide for added security and safety, and the locker is now ready to be used again.
