Creating the best workflow by design

The most efficient, productive workflow starts with a plan. Whether you're looking for a single table or to design an entire space, our Furniture Solutions design team can work with your management team, facilities management, office designer and architects to create the optimal solution.

Our experts will provide you with workflow planning advice and a 3D rendering of the space.

Transforming your operations

In order for your business to perform at its optimal efficiency, employees must move information quickly, easily and accurately. A Pitney Bowes Furniture Solution will put the right furniture in the right places so nothing stands in the way of your business communications flow.

In-Line Workstations utilize all the wall space available by creating side-by-side modules in a long row.

L-Shape Workstations are created by combining two In-Line Workstations at a 90 degree angle, utilizing the corner of a room.

U-Shape Workstations are commonly created by connecting two L-Shape Workstations together with an In-Line Workstation.
