Multi-Channel Customer Communications

Relay™ Multi-Channel Communications Suite

Future-proof the way you communicate.

Stay ahead of changing billing and statement needs without disrupting your legacy systems.

In today's business environment, where change happens in real time and accuracy is paramount, maintaining the integrity of your customers' sensitive data and communication preferences isn't just preferable. It's critical. With the Relay™ Multi-Channel Communications Suite from Pitney Bowes, you can stay one step ahead of it all with precise, error-free mailings you can adapt in real time to evolving business needs and customer messaging preferences — even across channels — every time. Even better, it gives you an end-to-end solution you can use to transform your legacy platform into a future-proof one.

Stay ahead of your customers' changing communication demands with a suite of products that adapts to your unique business needs.

Stunning precision

Enterprise-level mailing innovations like barcode scanning and file-based processing are made simple and affordable to ensure that the right mail—every page of it—makes it to the right customer, every time. And you also have the ability to enhance legacy documents with advanced color and graphics for greater brand consistency across channels.

Unprecedented flexibility

Because the Relay Multi-Channel Communications Suite digitizes every document, multi-channel delivery and digitally archiving are easy. Connecting to onsite or cloud-based storage services is simple as well, without compromising sensitive data or adding IT support.

Unique sending capabilities

The Relay Multi-Channel Communications Suite allows you to instantly transition print-based documents to digital delivery.

Adapts to existing systems

Because the Relay Multi-Channel Communications Suite software system works seamlessly with your existing systems, technologies and documents, it frees you from your legacy platform limitations and future-proofs your communications, all with less spend and no production or equipment downtime.
