

Experience a better way to mail

Make office sending faster, easier and avoid trips to the post office.

A century of innovation for our customers.

Celebrating our 100th year, we are delighted to introduce a new sending solution: SendPro® C.

While we're proud of how Pitney Bowes has stood the test of time, we have not stood still. This new model represents our latest, most advanced technology to make sending your post easier and less expensive.

We'd also like to touch upon our excellent customer service, which you can see represented by our Trustpilot score below. We understand your business depends on having your sending solutions operating correctly and we do our utmost to make this a reality.

Introducing the new sending solution from Pitney Bowes.

SendPro® C is our latest all-in-one office sending solution. Designed by our customers, it simplifies your day-to-day sending needs. Plus, with our exclusive savings of up to 86%¹ on ink through AutoInk, you'll be able to reduce running costs more than ever.

Designed to minimise downtime:

Quickly navigate to the task at hand with just a few taps of the Android-powered colour touchscreen. It's that easy.

Ink included as standard:

With AutoInk, you never have to worry about ordering ink again. We automatically ship you a replacement franking ink cartridge as you begin to run low. With franking ink bundled for the life of your SendPro contract, you can save up to 86% a year.¹

Stellar customer support:

Contact us in the manner that works best for you—phone, live chat online or message us through your account. We're here to help.

¹ This is based on the usage of five Pitney Bowes genuine franking ink cartridges per year on the €8.99 monthly tariff. AutoInk is a part of your all-inclusive service contract. AutoInk is an optional service and you will be provided with an alternative service contract should you wish to opt out of AutoInk.

Sending mail, but still want discounts?

SendPro C is right for you.

SendPro C is our mailing solution designed to simplify mail processing. Quickly send letters and parcels as well as help you take advantage of postage and ink savings, which gives you more time to concentrate on what really matters—your business.

SendPro C lets you

Process up to 65 letters per minute.

Fit into any office environment with its small footprint and quiet performance.

Access intuitive guides and easy-to-follow menus with our Android-based 7" colour touchscreen.

Integrates easily into your existing operation. Enables multiple departments to mail.

Automatically save up to 5c² on every letter and large envelope and 10c² on every packet you send.

"SendPro C has removed the complexities from managing mail, which leaves us free to focus on delivering the best customer experience. We love that the software is cloud-based, so we don't need to worry about manual updates, and the spending and usage reports give us absolute visibility over costs which compared to our previous option with a known competitor saves us so much time!"
