

Customer Engagement
Customer-Engaged Billing

Create interactions that cut costs and drive profits.

Customers read their statements more often and more closely than any other communications. Now that you have their attention, what do you want them to do?

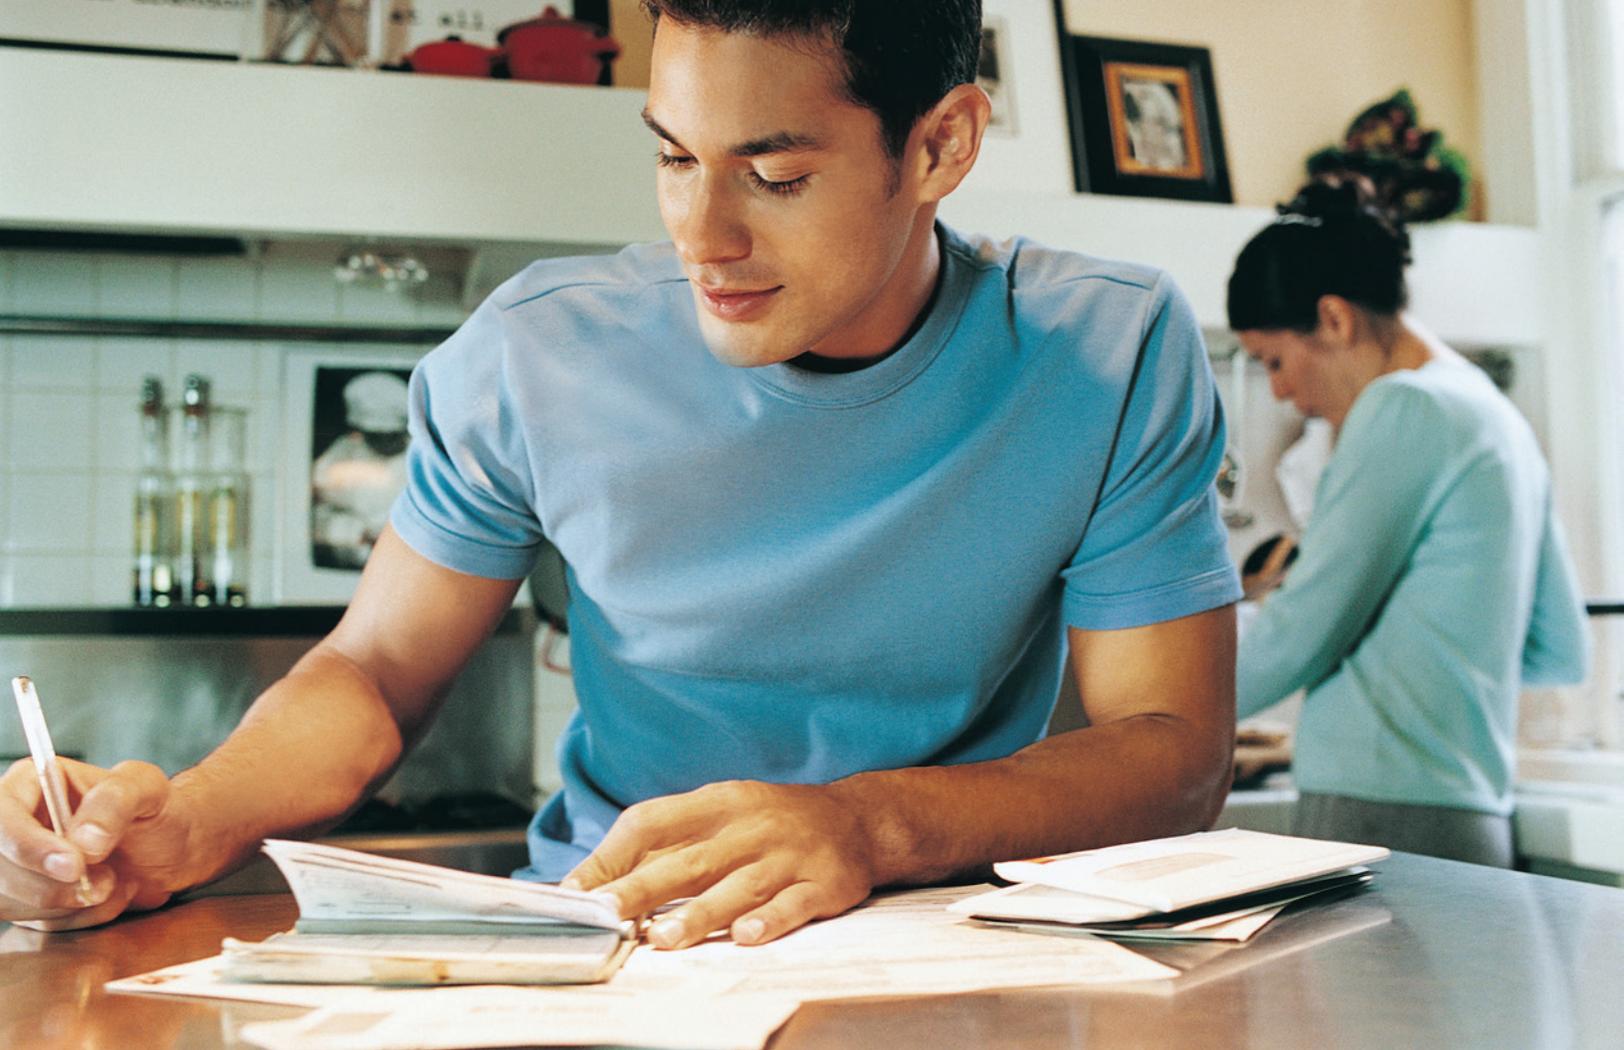

Realize your full potential.

Your customers receive more and more mailers, emails, texts, tweets and social media alerts every day. Most go unread and unanswered. Opt-out rates are on the rise and statements are different. Your customers open them, review them and spend time on the details.

Take advantage of this opportunity. Turn statements into highly personalized experiences. Update formats based on your customers' preferences. Promote more compelling offers and deliver true self-service convenience.

Customer-Engaged Billing cuts cost, boosts revenue and increases the lifetime value of every customer. Entirely scalable, you can personalize content and tailor experiences at production speeds, generating thousands of pages per second.

One large telecommunications company used color to make statements easier to understand. The only calls they received were in response to the highly targeted, one-to-one offers.

Sell more and spend less.

There's a better way to use your statements to promote special offers. Customer-Engaged Billing combines real-time analytics, interactive video and high-speed output so you can engage customers in more compelling ways.

- Delight customers with personalized experiences
- Grow revenues with the right marketing offers
- Reduce the cost to service each account
- Increase the overall ROI of any statement operation

You'll generate content that is more timely, relevant and targeted. It can also drive customers to more cost-efficient channels.

Reduce call volumes.

Customers like it when information is precise, accurate and easy to understand. Redesign your statement experience, adding customized tables, color and attention-grabbing graphics. Changes are easy. You can update terms, comply with new regulations, and craft messages on a one-to-one basis. Personalized videos can take customers through their bill so they'll understand everything with no need to call.

Adapt to each customer.

Some customers prefer large-text print. Others just want a quick text message. With a single system that manages print and digital output, you engage everyone based on their unique needs and preferences.

Get personal with your customers.

Sell by being pertinent.

Turn your bills into a powerful sales channel. Built-in marketing automation recommends the best offer or message for each customer based on unique profiles, transaction histories and behaviors.

Accelerate digital service adoption.

When low-cost channels provide quick access and accurate details, more customers use them. So make it easy to view, sort, and download information on web, video and mobile devices. Your call center agents can even access the same documents and recommendations, so you can deliver a consistent experience every time.

Deliver relevant experiences every day.

Simple to modify and easy to deploy, our Customer-Engaged Billing solution integrates easily with any system or business application (e.g. CRM, ERP and BPM) and offers robust capabilities.

Predictive analytics: greater relevance

Built-in intelligence assesses customer profiles, transaction histories and prior interactions, scoring each opportunity to recommend the best-next-action on a customer-by-customer basis. You can set up business rules that determine what the customer sees, including both messages and images. This real-time marketing automation helps ensure that messaging is more relevant, more compelling and more targeted.

Document creation: high-speed personalization

Grab your customers' attention to increase response. Generating thousands of pages per second, Pitney Bowes delivers all of the tools you need to create a personalized experience:

- Integrate data, templates, profiles and preferences
- Target content to specific individuals in real time
- Offer large print and multilingual options
- Personalize tables, messaging, video and full-color graphics
- Engage customers via print, web, mobile, e-mail and SMS

Interactive video: the human touch

Apply the same high-speed personalization to video. These interactive digital experiences provide a low-cost way to engage customers, explain bills and promote plans and services. Address customers by name with content that is selected based on unique profiles. Customers can navigate, enter data and download information without ever having to call.

Accurate self-service: increased efficiency

With more customers relying on the web and mobile devices, it's not enough to provide easy-to-understand statements in print. Low-cost digital statement delivery can take the place of print, without sacrificing your ability to promote revenue-driving offers. When you add electronic bill pay and mobile account management, you can increase satisfaction and lower costs by helping customers learn more, do more and respond more online.

An international utility consolidated electric and gas services on a single bill. Customers could specify text size, print formats or language based on their needs... and they could pay it all with one payment.

A leading Internet service provider increased products per customer 22% in just 15 months, while reducing call volumes by 10%.

Omnichannel delivery: synchronized experiences

Most customers rely on several channels, so you need a way to orchestrate an experience that makes sense from a customer's perspective. Our real-time analytics engine can automatically update offers and messaging based on earlier customer interactions, even those that occurred just seconds ago. So if a customer was online and said "no thanks" to a particular offer, you won't repeat that same offer at the next touchpoint.

Make money with statements

Start with accurate, easy-to-understand designs. Add speed and reliability. Now customize formats for each customer and automatically generate content based on insight and analytics. Extend that experience to call centers, videos, websites and mobile apps. Result: reduced costs and greater revenue.
