Pitney Bowes Global Services is committed to helping our clients – like you – get the most value from their investment. We'll start by scheduling a trained representative to handle the installation and operator training for your new Relay® inserter. With our support, you can fully benefit from everything our innovative solution has to offer right away.

Take advantage of professional installation and training services.

We'll make sure your employees are comfortable accessing the most critical features of Relay. By showing your staff best practices, we can help improve operational efficiency. Our onsite services support includes:

- Installation of inserting systems, stackers and feeders.
- Operator training for installed equipment.
- Job run demonstrations.
- Optional mail run assistance service for up to four hours.

Accelerate your time to results.

With decades of field experience and innovative technological leadership, Pitney Bowes Global Services offers a full array of end-to-end service installation and optimization resources that span the entire product life cycle. World class support services from Pitney Bowes will compliment and optimize your technology purchase. All of our services are customized to meet your unique business needs, now and in the future. They include:

- Consulting.
- Training.
- Implementation.
- Analytics.
