

IntelliVIEW™

Rest easier.

Automatically track your mail and prove compliance.

Know when your mail is inducted and delivered.

Prompt, reliable induction and delivery is a major concern for every mailer. For many businesses, it's a critical component when it comes to legal compliance.

The financial services industry is a prime example. The Truth-in-Lending Act and the Federal Reserve Board's Regulation Z mandate that mortgage lenders send a Good Faith Estimate and Truth-in-Lending disclosure to potential borrowers no more than three business days after receiving an application. They can be audited and harshly penalized for non-compliance.

Audits are often time-consuming, burdensome and marred by incomplete or inconsistent information. Penalties can be costly: civil liability, heightened risk exposure, reimbursement charges and irreparable damage to corporate and brand reputation.
