

A simple guide to your Pitney Bowes postage payment options

It's important that you set up your Pitney Bowes postage payment method before your equipment arrives. Use this chart to compare your options and choose the ideal match for your unique business needs.

Pitney Bowes Payment Options	 Credit Line (Purchase Power®)	 Prepaid Deposit (Pitney Bowes Reserve Account)
What is it?	A line of credit with The Pitney Bowes Bank A send now, pay later option	A prepaid deposit account with The Pitney Bowes Bank A pay-as-you-go option
How does it work?	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Charge sending expenses to your credit line and pay monthly • Payment terms up to 27 days • Flexible payment options: minimum amount due, total balance or amount you choose • View monthly statement, make payment, check balance online 24/7 here. 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Make deposits in advance. Sending expenses are debited from account balance • One-time or scheduled ACH deposits (funds available within 48 hours). Learn how. • Mail a check (funds available in 7-10 days) • View monthly statement, check balance online 24/7 here.
Which sending expenses are eligible?	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Stamp postage and USPS® shipping labels printed from all your devices or online account • All shipping/logistic providers, like FedEx® and UPS® • USPS permit postage, P.O. Box, 3rd party mail house and presort providers • Pitney Bowes supplies and rental charges 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Stamp postage and USPS® shipping labels printed from all your devices or online account • USPS permit postage, P.O. Box, 3rd party mail house and presort providers
What are the benefits?	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Keep cash on hand and/or conserve other credit facilities for general business expenses • Track all your eligible shipping and mailing expenses in one place 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Deposit any amount you need, as often as you like, based on your mailing and shipping patterns • Track all your deposits and eligible shipping and mailing expenses in one place • No monthly fees. Earn interest. FDIC-insured
How do I apply?	Simply fill out this form to apply. (You'll need your Pitney Bowes account number and business Tax Identification Number.)	Simply call 844-256-6444 and a client support representative will assist you. (You'll need your Pitney Bowes account number and business Tax Identification Number.)